Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The primary reason for the allowable subject matter of claim 8 is the inclusion of the connecting member comprising a plate member having a radial end and a bore therein, the plate attached by a weld seam to the stanchion. For claim 9, it is the inclusion of a the connecting member comprising pair of plates attached to the stanchion forming a channel therein, the plates having bores therein that receive a pivotal attachment means. For claim 10, it is the inclusion of the ends of the rails having a hole there through adjacent to each distal end and a top and bottom notch that receives the pivotal attachment means.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hartman #4,030,255, Hartman et al #3,964,215, Taormina #6,068,084, Purvis et al #5,683,074, and Lionetto #3,662,993 are cited to teach railing assemblies.
